MEET SHAZ

Shaz is a seasoned voice-over artist and narrator with a rich background spanning over two decades. My journey in the world of audio storytelling began when I graduated from Wayne State University with a degree in Radio/Television, laying the foundation for a career that seamlessly blends passion and expertise. Over the years, I've delved into various facets of the media industry, gaining valuable experience both on and off-screen. However, it was the allure of the spoken word that truly captured my heart. I found my calling in the realm of voiceovers, where my distinctive voice became a powerful tool for conveying narratives with depth and emotion. My versatile voice has left its mark across diverse platforms, including meditation apps where I guide listeners on serene journeys, e-learning modules where I make complex subjects engaging, explainer videos where I bring concepts to life, IVR systems that offer a warm, empathetic and professional touch, and commercials where I inject warmth into brand messages. With each project, I bring not just my extensive experience but a genuine passion for the art of storytelling through voice. My dedication to delivering top-notch performances is rooted in a deep understanding of the impact a well-executed voiceover can have on an audience. As I continue this exciting journey, I look forward to lending my voice to new projects, creating immersive experiences, and leaving a lasting impression through the art of narration.
